

I am in full support of dividing the 160 meter amateur band. Below 1843 should be set aside for cw and digitalmodes. Above 1843 should be for SSB and wide-band modes. This would really help with the interference problem.